

TOWARDS ZERO WASTE NAHANT COMPOSTING WORKSHOP

APRIL 13th at 7:00pm at Town Hall

Come to this free workshop and learn all about composting. This is an exciting opportunity to hear from an expert on composting. You will learn how to compost and where to get the supplies, plus other helpful tips on how you can reduce waste in your household.

What is composting? Composting is the planned, accelerated decomposition of kitchen and yard wastes. Composting creates BLACK GOLD for your garden.

Why compost? It drastically reduces household garbage output resulting in lower trash bills and a better environment.

Towards Zero Waste Nahant has three major goals but we need the help of the community. Together we can succeed in...

- 1) decreasing solid waste
- 2) increasing recycling
- 3) bringing down the trash rate

For more information about the event or about Towards Zero Waste Nahant please contact Jen McCarthy at edwarthy@hotmail.com Heather Goodwin info@twigsandheather.com or Meredith Tibbo mctibbo@gmail.com